

RETRENCHERS FORCE ANOTHER SESSION

REDISTRICTING BILL IS PASSED UP TO GOVERNOR

Passes Finally in Both Houses—Bill Puts Senators Doyle and Woods in the Same District—Border Counties All in One District—Elections Will Be Held in 1924.

(By Silliman Evans in Ft. Worth Star-Telegram)
Austin, Texas, Aug. 17.—The dead came to life Tuesday afternoon, during the final hours of the special session of the Legislature, and the bill providing for senatorial redistricting was finally passed in the House and Senate. Friends of the bill had all but despaired of any hope for redistricting, following the long parliamentary and legislative battle that has been waged for the bill. The free conference committee between the House and the Senate finally got together at noon Tuesday, and immediately at the start of the session the report was made, and despite a vigorous fight on it, led by Representative Seagler of Palestine, the conference committee report was adopted. The Senate soon thereafter adopted it.

PROVIDES ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD IN 1924
The bill includes the muchly rated Wood amendment. Under the terms of this amendment there will be no elections under the senatorial redistricting bill until 1924. Every effort was made it was stated by Representative Hill, who made the floor fight on behalf of the bill, to get the Senate to recede from its position with regard to this, but without avail. Senatorial redistricting, culminating a battle of decade on the part of West Texas and her spokesman, was not achieved yesterday without a struggle.

Although some question has arisen in the matter, it is believed that Governor Pat M. Neff will sign the bill. The fact that it contains the Wood amendment, designed to "put off" elections under the bill for two years, has caused some people to think that the Governor may veto the bill. Although this is regarded by West Texans here as being undesirable the bill also contains a provision whereby it is stipulated that if any portion of the bill is not found constitutional, this find shall not affect the remainder of the act. Under the terms of the bill, West Texas gains two more senators. The old Panhandle district is cut in half, and there is one district entirely composed of North Panhandle counties. The tier of counties bordering on Oklahoma is the northernmost counties, and the tier of counties beginning with Palmer on the west and Childress on the east, is the southern boundary of the new North Panhandle district, to be known as District No. 31. Amarillo is made the seat of the district. This is an entirely new district. No senator lives in it. In it lives Hill of Wheeler, author of the redistricting bill.

Senator Bledsoe Wins.
District No. 30, another of the Northwest Texas districts, begins on the west with Bailey and goes south along the New Mexico line to Andrews, thence eastward including Martin and Howard counties, and then goes northward taking in, as eastern border counties, Borden, Kent, Stone-wall, King and Cottle, Lubbock is the seat of the district. Another entirely new West Texas district is the Twenty-third, of which Wichita Falls is the seat. This district is composed of Hardeman, Wilbarger, Wichita, Clay, Archer, Young, Baylor and Knox counties. No senator lives in this district.

Jumbo District.
The twenty-ninth district, including El Paso county, and coming as far east as Medina county, is now the jumbo senatorial district. It includes all the Rio Grande border counties, going as far southwest as Maverick county. Senator R. M. Dudley lives in this district.
West Central Texas included in the main, in the Twenty-fifth district, Sterling, Irion and Schleicher counties bound the district on the west, Coke, Runnels, Coleman, Brown, Comanche counties on the north; McCulloch, Mason and Gillespie on the east, and Gillespie, Kimble and Schleicher on the south. Senator Baugh of Ballinger lives in this district.
A shoe string district, one of the points of parliamentary wrangles, is made up in Northwest Central Texas. It is the Twenty-first district. Senator Buchanan of Bell, who lives in the district, made many concessions in order that redistricting may be accomplished.

Senators Thrown Together.
The district begins on the north with Erath county, comes south, taking in Hamilton and Bosque, Coryell, and Bell. A lateral district is made up out of another list of counties in here, to be known as the Twelfth District. Hood, Somervell, Johnson, Hill and Ellis counties comprise it. Senator Watts of Cleburne lives in this district.
The outstanding feature of the bill is that it throws Senators W. E. Doyle and John H. Woods in the same district. Senator Doyle lives in Freestone county; Senator Woods in Navarro. Both of these counties are now in the same district.

The New Districts.
The districts are as follows:
1. Bowie, Marion, Cass, Morris, Titus.
2. Harrison, Gregg, Rusk, Panola, Shelby.
3. Cherokee, Nacogdoches, San Augustine, Angelina, Sabine, Newton, Jasper, Tyler.
4. Orange, Jefferson, Hardin, Liberty.
5. Grimes, Montgomery, Trinity, Leon, Houston, Polk, Madison, Walker, San Jacinto.
6. Navarro, Henderson, Anderson, Freestone, Kaufman.

DR. W. B. BIZZELL IS GREETED BY FRIENDS ON HIS RETURN HOME

(Special to the Eagle)
College Station, Aug. 17.—The faculty of the A. & M. College, the employees and their families in gratitude to President W. B. Bizzell, met the train this afternoon at 3:25 that brought him from Austin and assured him of their continued loyalty to him and to the College. President Bizzell of course was greatly grieved over the situation of A. & M. College since the failure of the legislature to pass the appropriation bill and he stated that he now felt himself to be in a very desperate strait as he could not under the existing conditions live up to the promises that he had made his associates in the College.

EBERSTADT TALKS TO CAMERON COMMERCE ON CLUB PROBLEMS

(Special to the Eagle)
Cameron, Aug. 17.—The Cameron Commercial Club at its meeting last Friday night had as its guest, Secretary Eberstadt of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce, who gave the club a splendid talk on commercial club work. He brought with him a fine display of photographs and posters and advertised Bryan and Brazos county in an effective manner, and at the same time gave our club members a lot of valuable information and pointers.

Upon motion from W. W. Chambers, seconded by C. R. Phillips, the regular order of business was suspended in order to give more time to the speaker of the evening, Secretary S. E. Eberstadt of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce.

President McLane introduced Mr. Eberstadt, who spoke very entertainingly of his experience as secretary, respectively of the Jefferson, Pecos, and Bryan Chambers of Commerce. He emphasized the necessity of commercial club members putting aside petty feelings and working together in a spirit of co-operation, and gave other valuable advice on city boosting and building.

W. W. Chambers expressed appreciation of the club for the visit and talks made by Mr. Eberstadt. Upon motion from F. S. Lesovsky, amended by T. S. Henderson, Jr., the speaker was tendered a vote of thanks and made an honorary member of the club.

A special meeting of the board of directors of the Cameron Commercial Club was held Friday afternoon in the directors room of the First National Bank, at which Secretary Eberstadt of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce explained how they conducted their highly successful building and loan company in Bryan.

Mr. Eberstadt proved an interesting talker and he was very enthusiastic in his illumination of the details of organizing and conducting this highly prosperous adjunct to the activities of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce. He unqualifiedly recommended the organization of such an enterprise in Cameron.

Talked of Building and Loan.
Recommendation that a local association be formed to handle the Building and Loan Association in Cameron was made in a report made to the club Friday night by the committee of which Frank S. Lesovsky is chairman. This report was made following a special directors meeting held in the afternoon and addressed by Secretary Eberstadt of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce on the subject of the Building Loan association.

Mr. Eberstadt organized a building loan in Bryan and the association has built a large number of homes and is a success from every angle. The Bryan plan was laid before the directors by Mr. Eberstadt.

Previous to this meeting the committee had under advisement plan offered by an outside association. This the report says that until it is shown plan was thought impractical and that a local concern cannot operate outside concerns will not be countenanced. Mr. Eberstadt followed his meeting with the directors with an address to the club Friday night. The regular order of business was suspended and Mr. Eberstadt was given a hearing that reflected general pleasure at his coming and what he had to say along the line of the duties of commercial clubs.

BRYAN ROTARIANS HAVE LUNCHEON AND ENJOY BIG SPEECHES

Travis B. Bryan was the orator of the day at Rotary luncheon Wednesday. The club held its meeting and luncheon at the Green Parrot Tea Room. The entertainment committee introduced Rotarian Herbert Willson of Taylor, Texas, who recited the experiences of the club at Taylor in its organization work. He gave a great many suggestions that will be valuable to the Bryan Club. Dr. J. A. Held talked entertainingly about "The Difference in the Marriage Ceremony for the Poor Man and the Rich Man." C. E. Friley talked on "Contrasts" and explained the way in which the educational institutions of other states were financed as compared with the educational institutions of Texas. Another guest of the club Captain W. T. Bals of College told of his impressions of Bryan. Then followed Mr. Bryan's famous speech called "Looking Back from 1941."

Those present were: R. W. Howell, T. K. Lawrence, Oak McKenzie, J. Webb Howell, M. E. Wallace, Tyler Haswell, John T. S. Park, C. E. Jones, D. Ernest Moore, Lawrence Parker, F. L. Henderson, John M. Lawrence, W. R. Fairman, G. Sam Parker, Professor R. O. Allen, J. A. McQueen, Travis B. Bryan, Roy C. Stone, Dr. J. A. Held, C. E. Friley, Captain W. T. Bals and Herbert Willson of Taylor, Texas.

Bitter House Fight Culminated In Defeat

(Special to the Eagle)
Austin, Aug. 17.—The galleries are packed with crowds Speaker Thomas warned that there must be no demonstrations. The educational bill was defended by Chairman Satterwhite, Representative Rountree, Miller of Dallas and McLennon. The opposition was led by Curtis of Tarrant, Veatch of Johnson and Westbrook of Grayson. The debate lasted four hours and was based on the salaries and expenses of the University and A. and M. College. Representative Rountree opened the debate for the educational institutions and Representative Curtis led the opposition. Miller and Williams made great speeches for the cause of higher education. Rountree, Miller and Williams stormed the majority with the fact that they were responsible for the special session and the closing of the doors of our colleges and schools. Some few weakened but the leaders pulled together enough votes to win. When the first fight came on the University the vote was 90 to 30. The second vote came on the A. and M. College and Rountree led the fight for the bill, the vote being 72 to 52. On the final vote it stood: For the bill, 56; against, 66. In a brief conference this morning the friends of education agreed to continue the battle and in speaking of the situation Representative Rountree states: "We are going to continue the fight and expect to win and hope to get money enough to run our institutions in the end." Dr. Bizzell, Director Youngblood, Dean Nagle and Director Connor were here until the fight was over at midnight. The House met this morning and only eighty-five members were present. At 11 o'clock an attempt was made to bring in the absentees under a call of the House and warrants may be sent to members unless an adjournment can be taken until Monday.

Values Are Made Basis Of Public Utility Rate

(Dallas News Special)
Austin, Texas, Aug. 17.—The Senate today concurred in the House amendment to the bill by Senator Witt, providing that cities shall fix public utility rates upon the basis of the physical value of the properties of said utilities rather than upon their stocks, bonds and indebtedness. The bill now goes to the Governor. Senator Willis of Dallas fought the concurrence bitterly. He stated that if this amendment should be concurred in, it would amend the charters of all home-rule cities of Texas and put them in a very embarrassing and serious fix in so far as their relations with public utilities are concerned. The amendment over which the fight was made reads: "Hereafter no city shall be responsible for, concerned with or have jurisdiction over the issuance or sale of any stocks or bonds by any such person, firm or corporation, but the issuance and sale thereof shall be governed solely by the Constitution and general laws of the state applicable thereto."

SENATOR WILLIS VIGOROUSLY ATTACKS THE BILL.

This means, in effect, said Senator Willis, that hereafter street car companies or any other public utilities can issue bonds on their properties in any particular city and can then pocket the money for these bonds or spend it at some hundreds of miles away from the city containing the utilities upon which the bonds were based. It will allow, he said, street car companies to violate with impunity their franchises with home-rule cities, inasmuch as they can, under this act, issue all the bonds they want to any time they want, and thereby "water their stock" to such an extent as to interfere seriously with the right of home-rule cities to fix rates. For instance, he pointed out, a public utility can build up, under this act, so many outstanding obligations as to threaten to throw itself to receivership in case the city tries to raise rates. Senator Witt led the fight for concurrence in the amendment. At one time he referred to Dallas as "a huge octopus that tries to strangle all the smaller cities by reaching out with its tentacles for everything in sight." He said that Dallas wanted the public utilities to spend in Dallas all the money raised by the sale of public utility bonds, while, as a matter of justice, in the case of interurbans, some of this money ought to be spent in the smaller cities reached by the interurban lines.

Last Roll Call Fails To Break The Deadlock On Educational Muddle

DUDLEY PREPARES TO OFFER ORIGINAL MEASURE MINUS CUTS

(By Associated Press)
Austin, Aug. 17.—Senator Dudley, chairman of the Senate finance committee, announced that he would introduce the educational appropriation bill as it was originally prepared. This bill will not carry the salary reductions which were made by the House and the free conference committee. It is expected that the legislature will adjourn in two weeks.

WHITES ASK SQUARE DEAL--FORCE GANG AWAY AND BEGIN WORK

(By Associated Press)
Ablene, Aug. 17.—A crowd of white men estimated at a hundred gathered at the site of a church, which is being erected here, this morning and took charge after ordering a number of Mexican and negro workers away. The white men were quoted as saying that they asked only a square deal for white men and requested they be given preference over Mexicans in employment. There was no disorder.

E. P. Gilpin and his daughter, Miss Myrtle Gilpin, of Birmingham, Ala., are visiting relatives in Brazos county, and are the guests of Mr. Gilpin's sisters, Mrs. W. G. Reynolds and Mrs. T. A. Cloud, in Bryan.

Since the Deadlock On the Educational Bill Continued to the Final Vote of the Old Session Governor Neff Reconvened the Legislators at 10 O'clock in Another Special Session.

(By Associated Press)
Austin, Texas, August 17.—After a conference with President Vinson of the University of Texas and President W. B. Bizzell of A. and M., Governor Neff announced early this morning that he would issue a call at 10 o'clock for a second special session of the Thirty-seventh Legislature. The Governor further announced that the educational appropriation bill will be the only subject submitted for consideration. The first called session adjourned sine die at 12:10 this morning without having effected a compromise, which fact came as a great surprise to most of the members when the House refused to adopt the free conference report on the educational bill. After prolonged argument from House members on both sides of the question the conference committee's report was put to a vote last night at 11:30 and to the tune of 66 to 58 adoption was defeated. In an effort to secure concurrence of the Senate to House amendments to the educational bill the old custom of turning backward the flight of time was resorted to. These efforts were unavailing, however, and after heated argument and occasional flights of oratory the first special session came to an end at 12:10 o'clock this morning.

FEW QUIT STEAM ROLLER TO AVOID ANOTHER SESSION.

Most members of the House have persistently proclaimed the desire that another extra session might in the end be found unnecessary, although a few of the retrencher leaders said it was a matter of principle and rather than yield would welcome another special session. In the hope of finally passing the bill as mutilated by the free conference several of the representatives who have formerly refused to desert the ranks of the opposition voted for the compromise measure at the last roll call, hoping thereby to avoid another prolonged and discordant contest in another special session. Assistant Attorney General Keeling participated in the conference between the Governor and the heads of the University and A. and M. Although a number of legislators departed for their homes last night and early today there was a quorum in both branches for the new session. Speaker Thomas called the House to order promptly at 10 this morning and Lieutenant Governor Davidson rapped for order in the Senate simultaneously in accordance with the Governor's proclamation.

ROUNTREE PLEADS FOR EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM.

(Special to the Eagle)
Austin, August 17.—In speaking for the passage of the educational bill Representative Rountree said "The crisis has come to the very doors of our educational institutions if you defeat the free conference report as the clock nears the closing hour of this session. If you fail to adopt it you will not only be responsible for the Governor calling another extra session, but may close the doors of the State University, the A. and M. College and all other educational institutions of this state. Shall we hesitate at our plain duty." Representative Rountree defended the educational system in Texas as founded by the forefathers and declared that the time had come when Texas must decide on her future course and follow it with confidence and courage for the people.

Satterwhite For Adoption.
(Dallas News Special)
Austin, Aug. 17.—Chairman Satterwhite, of the House Appropriation Committee and a member of the free conference committee on the educational bill, lead off in advocating the adoption of the conference report, detailing the labor and effort to get the compromise effected and in the preparation of the new bill. He said he was perfectly willing to permit the minority to lay before the House their reasons, and that he was willing for the house to decide on the report according to their best judgment.

At this juncture, Speaker Thomas ruled on the point of order raised by Miller of Dallas. He permitted the reasons of the minority for not agreeing with the majority report to be read before the House, but he said it would not be in order to allow the argument to be presented.

The reasons of the minority in refusing to sign the report were that the people were hard pressed, economy must be practiced and that the cost of living has gone down. They contended that the educational institutions ought to do their part in lessening the burdens of the people. They asserted that no reasonable compromise was made, but that the dictates of the Senate had been accepted by a majority of the committee representing a minority of the House and that the long fight of the House majority would be lost by accepting the report. It was further stated that the conference bill cuts $9,000 annually from the A. and M. budget and $38,000 annually from the University budget, while the House majority had trimmed the A. and M. $30,000 annually and the University $131,000. They claimed that these reductions were merely the removal of the emergency increases in salaries, asserting that the emergency had passed, also that the high cost of living had passed.

Satterwhite in resuming his statement said that it would require two hours to read the conference committee bill, and he took it that the House did not expect to have the full bill read. He explained that the only difference between the House majority and the Senate bills is in the salaries of the University and A. and M. College.

Willing to Take Blame.
Veatch of Johnson reminded the House he had predicted that those of the minority would hold over the heads of the others the threat of another called session. He denied attempting to hurt the University or the Agricultural and Mechanical College. He said he had been attacked once by James E. Ferguson, former governor, because he (Veatch) had voted for a university appropriation. Declaring he would "stand by the guns," he told the House he was willing to go home and take the blame.

Williams of McLennan answered charges of dilatory tactics. "They claim the minority is operating a steam roller," he said. "Shame on the leaders of the majority. If I had had the majority I would have had this bill reported out three weeks ago."

He read the names of the board of regents to show that they were all competent business men and able to direct the affairs of the university. He charged that cuts had been made by men who were blindfolded to the relative merits of faculty members.

How They Voted.
The vote of the House rejecting the conference report on the educational appropriation bill follows: Yeas: Mr. Speaker of the House, Adams, Aiken, Baker, Baldwin, Barker, Beavens, Bonham, Burns, Chitwood, Coffee, Cummins, John Davis of Dallas, Duncan, Estes, Faubion, Fly, Fugler, Hall, Hendricks, Horton, Johnson of Ellis, Johnson of Wichita, Jones, Kelis, Lackey, Lestergeon, Low, McFarlane, Malone, Mathes, Merriman, Miller of Dallas, Morgan, Moore, Morris of Medina, Mott, Neblett, Owen, Perkins of Cherokee, Pollard, Quaid, Rogers of Shelby, Rountree, Satterwhite, Seagler, Shearer, Sims, Smith, Stephens, Stewart of Reeves, Sweet of Tarrant, Teer, Thompson, Thrasher, West, Williams of McLennan, Williams of Montgomery—53. "FIRST BALE" TIME

This is "First Bale" time in Central and South Texas. That means business revival and stimulated trading, even while watermelons are yet fine and the barbecues and political speeches are in full blast. Texas is not going to know the boom of war times in the coming fall, but much of the road to normal business will have been covered, and the varied interests and industries of the state will have made important strides toward prosperity. Texas is fundamentally sound. The world will have to buy its cotton, its oil and oil products, its lumber, its rice, its beef, its wool. It will be necessary for the people of the commonwealth to liquidate further, to keep on producing. In good time, the worst will be over and all of us will see better days. Quite a succession of events follow the "First Bale" season. In due time will come the general harvest, the circus, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas, all inspiring occasions in our lives and experience, and all calculated to lighten our burdens, increase our faith and hope and swell our enthusiasm. As always, the "First Bale" is a harbinger of hope and joy for the people of Texas, and the old world looks good, even though it is slightly disfigured and still given to frenzy.—Houston Post.

ATTEMPT TO SAVE ON TEXAS EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

(Special to the Eagle)

Austin, Texas, August 16.—In view of the many heated discussions, counter statements and misunderstandings during the recent special session of the Texas Legislature the State of Texas is brought face to face with the undisputed fact that our present educational system governing the management, support and maintenance of our higher institutions of learning in this state is inadequate, inefficient and subject to ultimate breakdown. Those interested in the perpetuity of our institutions might as well face the crisis now at hand. The people of Texas must know that the education of the youth of the commonwealth is not merely the question of the passing years, that it is not founded upon political passions of the hour or the year, but that it is the question of the ages.

When the older civilizations of Rome, Greece, Nineveh, Alexandria, and Babylon forgot the great issue of universal and patriotic education they all perished. In ancient days it was said that the laws of the Medes and Persians were unchanged and unchangeable, and would live forever. History repeats itself through all the ages and the record comes to the people of Texas now and challenges men and women of this state to forget any personal or political ambitions and unite for the future greatness and glory of a trained and educated citizenship. If the University of Texas, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, the College of Industrial Arts, the state normals and other educational institutions of the state are to be of the first class, then a stable and orderly system must be evolved for their support and maintenance, not merely for the hour but for all future time.

The educational institutions can be saved from the maelstrom of political contest by the adoption of a constitutional amendment setting aside a mill tax, or the passage of a law placing the attendance in our University and Colleges of the first class on a per capita basis with a building program to meet the issues confronting a great state and the onward march of civilization. God never put a nobler earthly sentiment in the hearts of patriotic men and women than to look well to the education of the youth of the commonwealth.

Will the men and the women of Texas who believe in their institutions sit supinely down and witness another spectacle of seeing the very life of her schools and colleges in the balance? They ought not to hesitate for a month or a day—not even one hour. The forefathers came in the wilderness and organized a civilization here and placed in the constitution and the law provisions that the children should be educated and now this generation must meet the issue or break faith with the heroic men and women who sleep beneath their sacred dust.

If institutions in Texas are to be of the first class so that the young manhood and womanhood of Texas can after spending years in search of knowledge, face the world and end its duties knowing that they are armed with knowledge of the first class then we will have succeeded in saving civilization. Let the friends of the University of Texas, the A. & M. College, C. I. A., and all her great schools and colleges awake. The time has come when a system of permanency, a stable and enduring support must be given to the men and women who are devoting their lives to the cause of education. There must not be any vacillation or uncertain policy in the future. There must be an adequate tax based upon sane policy set aside for early established institutions to allow them to meet the issues confronting the people. The young men and women of Texas must not be driven from Texas to seek the knowledge and culture that is the safety of society and the nation. Hence a tax must be paid for the common school up to the highest capstone of the educational superstructure. Today Texas is not fully meeting the issue. There is chaos and doubt every where and it behooves every man and woman in Texas to take up the question and put it in the organic law of this state and declare a new principle that those things the forefathers gave their fortunes, lives and sacred honor will be preserved. There is but one thing to do now and that is for those who believe in stable and efficient support of all our schools and colleges to assemble and promulgate a plan for the future that will save these things we have builded and perpetuate the glory and advancement of Texas along the highest lines of civilization. Texas should not hesitate or falter but act and that without delay to evade the conflicts, doubts and disasters that have been a menace at Austin. Our educational interests will finally meet disaster if they are subject to political revision and passion every two years. In this crisis will we wait or shall we assemble and act for the good of all Texas and the coming generations? The time for definite, concrete and constructive action has come and who will lead the way?

LEE J. ROUNTREE, Representative, 22nd District.

COMMERCE DIRECTORS HAVE A LIVELY SESSION

A Variety of Subjects Are Discussed by Commercial Club Men—Plans for Road Improvement on a Community Co-operative Basis Are Suggested—Teachers Will Be Entertained.

In an hour of lively discussion the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning had before it matters pertaining to road improvement, the Bryan band, disposition of the potato curing plant proposition, entertainment of the teachers who will attend the institute at A. and M. College in September, and other matters of routine which were not finally disposed of. County Agent C. L. Beason, in a talk for co-operative road building, brought out the fact that some of the roads leading into Bryan are in a deplorable condition and that there are no funds in the county treasury with which to do the work. He suggested that the various communities voluntarily take teams and tools and through co-operation make some improvement in the roads. It was suggested that attractive prizes be offered the competing communities which might undertake with most enthusiasm and success the problem of improving the roads. The proposition was discussed with considerable interest, some doubt being expressed that the various communities could be induced to co-operate in the plan. It was recognized that if some such plan could be put in operation it would be in the interest of every citizen who lives near or travels the roads. The matter was referred to the Highway Committee for further consideration, which will also confer with County Agent C. L. Beason and Judge H. O. Ferguson.

GET INVITATION TO NAVASOTA BARBECUE

Secretary S. E. Eberstadt read a letter from the Navasota Chamber of Commerce extending a cordial invitation to the big barbecue which will be held there Thursday, August 18. In another letter from the Secretary proposed a joint meeting of a committee from Bryan with one from Navasota when the concrete road on the K. T. is opened. Since the road will not be opened for some three weeks no action was taken on the proposal. At a previous meeting the proposition made by C. L. Eden to establish a potato curing plant in Bryan was referred to the City Development Committee. Chairman E. J. Fountain reported that he had been out of the city and that he has no chance to confer with the Agricultural and Appropriation committees, and that the three committees will jointly consider the proposition Wednesday. Following the report the committees were voted the power to make a definite contract with Mr. Eden if the details are acceptable.

Secretary Eberstadt reported for D. L. Wilson of the Highway Committee that he had been informed that parties owning land along the road proposed to be opened on the East and West highway had demanded of the commissioners court that hog proof fences be constructed for a distance of some four miles. Following the report no further action was taken. A letter of resignation was read from Alois Slovacek, director of the junior band, a deficit in funds making it impossible for the work to continue, according to the letter. The instruments were bought by citizens of Bryan and the board of directors of the Commercial Club was made the custodians. A communication was read from Director H. S. Locke giving an inventory of the equipment. Mr. Slovacek asked for the use of the instruments by the junior band and a committee composed of E. J. Jenkins, Oak McKenzie and M. E. Wallace, who will report next Tuesday on the matter.

Oak McKenzie, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, reported that he had conferred with Professor M. L. Hayes at College and that plans were being made for the entertainment of approximately 800 teachers on one evening during the institute which will be held at College early in September. His committee will make further arrangements and report at a subsequent meeting of the Board. The following were at the meeting: President Tyler Haswell, Secretary Sam Eberstadt, R. O. Allen, M. E. Wallace, Travis B. Bryan, Oak McKenzie, Judge H. O. Ferguson, E. J. Jenkins, E. J. Fountain, J. N. Dulaney, R. S. Webb, Jno. A. Moore, Jno. M. Lawrence and T. K. Lawrence.

Representative Rountree Predicts Second Session

(By Associated Press)

Austin, Texas, Aug. 16.—In view of the rumored deadlock at the capitol it seems that another called session of the legislature is inevitable to pass the general appropriation bill. Representative Lee J. Rountree of Brazos county stated today that one of the reasons there would be an extra session is because under the Constitution of Texas the present session can only be for thirty days, which time expires at midnight Tuesday night, August 16. The clock can only be turned back 38 minutes, which is the sun time, and hence at 12:38 a. m. Wednesday, August 17, the present session will be very dead. At a regular session of the legislature a different situation prevails. The adjournment is fixed by a sine die adjournment resolution and not by the Constitution and hence the clock can be turned back indefinitely. Representative Rountree states that there is a vast difference between a constitutional provision and a sine die provision and hence he predicts another special called session of the 37th Legislature. He says a bill must be passed under which the schools of Texas can open and be maintained or that question will be raised of the highest privilege and for the best interests of the children of Texas.

BRYAN COTTON MEN BUY FIRST NEW BALE OF BRAZOS COUNTY

Bryan people saw for the first time this year a brand new bale of cotton. It was brought in to the Eden gin this morning by Milton Hunter, a prosperous farmer on the Sims' place near Steele's Store. Although the first bale to be put on the local market, Hunter had little difficulty in finding a ready buyer. In fact when he arrived at the gin he was offered fifteen cents a pound for the bale. Hunter accepted the price and C. L. Eden then began ginning his own cotton. It was put up in a Clayton round bale and weighed 365 pounds and was classed as strict middling.

This was the first bale to be ginned at Bryan this year and is probably the first so far in all of Brazos county. Following a resolution adopted by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday to the effect that $25 be given as a premium to the man bringing in the first bale of 1921 cotton, Mr. Hunter is now $25 to the good in addition to the $54.75 which the bale brought on the local market. In addition the Bryan Cotton Oil Company made Mr. Hunter a present of a premium of $10 for having the first load of new cottonseed on the market. All told, Mr. Hunter received $89.75 for his bale of cotton.

The local ginners expect to be kept in operation at full speed soon and it will no doubt be only a matter of days when cotton will be a common article on the streets of Bryan. Mr. Hunter was approximately two weeks later than W. C. Boyett last year. In fact cotton is later than it has been since 1916, with the sole exception of 1919 when the first bale was sold on August 29. The persons winning the prize for the first bale of cotton put on the local market are as follows, together with the date: Irwin Curtis, July 26, 1916; Tom Maly, July 30, 1917; Irwin Curtis, July 16, 1918; Thurman Smith, August 20, 1919; W. C. Boyett, July 27, 1920; Milton Hunter, August 12, 1921.

MAYOR HASWELL IS MEMBER NATIONAL BUDGET COMMITTEE

(Special to the Eagle)

New York, Aug. 12.—Hon. Tyler Haswell, mayor of Bryan, Texas, has accepted the invitation of the National Budget committee to serve as honorary chairman of the local committee of that organization which is engaged in a nation-wide effort to gain popular support of the efforts of General Charles G. Dawes, director of the budget, to effect a reduction of the burden of Federal taxation.

Announcement of the acceptance of the mayor was made yesterday by Stanley H. Howe, director of the National Budget Committee, whose headquarters are at 7 West 8th Street, New York City. The mayor will join with the chief magistrates of a thousand other cities throughout the country in fostering the spirit of popular approval of the policy of Federal retrenchment. Active heads of local committees are being selected daily from among the most prominent business and professional men in their respective communities, and efforts are under way to secure the co-operation of leading citizens in a thousand cities by the formation of a nationwide "Budget Guard" whose members will simply pledge their support to the establishment of a business-like administration of governmental appropriations and expenditures.

Every member of the National Budget Committee, which was instrumental in initiating and passing the National Budget Bill, is asked to urge upon his fellow citizens the necessity for solidly supporting the present program of governmental efficiency and economy by the elimination of every possible item of expenditure. Every taxpayer who favors a reduction of the present unbearable tax burden is invited to join with their fellow townsmen in helping to crystallize public opinion and defeat unnecessary additions to federal expense. Mayors of Greenville, Bonham, Taylor, Temple, Beaumont, Port Arthur and Uvalde have also become honorary members of the organization.

PROF. ALLEN RETURN FROM VISIT TO MISSISSIPPI

Prof. R. O. Allen has returned from a trip of several weeks spent in Arkansas and his old home at Tupelo, Mississippi. He reports financial conditions there even worse than in Texas, especially in Mississippi, where in that part of the state they depend almost entirely on cotton; yet in the face of these conditions, people are cheerful, optimistic and progressive and undaunted in their civic pride. Tupelo is a town of not more than five thousand population, yet is the grand possessor of all paved streets, with parkings that would be credit to a town of much larger proportions, in beauty and in its wealth of foliage and flowers. Prof. Allen attributes this to the fact that the city has an abundance of pure, soft water, which is an absolute necessity to the life and growth of a city. Prof. Allen is enthusiastic over the results accomplished by his old home town. What Tupelo has accomplished other towns can.

More than anything else, the average small town needs beauty. Parks, be they ever so small, make a difference. Whatever the eyes finds rest in, or the soul feeds on, or the senses are elevated by, makes a difference. Paint brushes and sprinkling pots are wonderful adjuncts to tranquility. Where main streets are cluttered with torn papers, and stores have a vengeful slatternly appearance, people just naturally desire to turn from it. In this of making your home town beautiful all can share and there is a wonderful chance for leadership and achievement and those who are in the midst of this achievement are invariably assured happiness.

SPEECHES AND EATS FEATURE ROTARY MEET

The new entertainment committee had charge of the Rotary Luncheon yesterday. A week ago President Tom Lawrence appointed Marvin Wallace, Ned Fountain and Sankey Park as the committee to arrange a program each week for the balance of the Rotary year. They justified the fondest hopes of the president in the stunt they pulled off yesterday.

After listening to a splendid talk by Rotarians Rivers O. Allen and Roy C. Stone, the new members, Chairman Wallace announced that the day before he had been requested by two young ladies to settle a very heated argument about Uncle Jimmie Nagle's age as the club affectionately calls J. C. Nagle. He told the membership he had no idea what to tell them and he would put it up to the Rotary Club for decision. Cards were passed around and everybody took a guess in years, months and days. Tow Lawrence guessed 21 years, six months and four days, and Wilson Bradley guessed 66 years, 10 months and one day. Neither one guessed within a mile of his correct age. John Vick guessed within one day but we are not going to tell on Uncle Jimmie. A splendid prize consisting of a beautiful doll nicely dressed up in frills and ruffles and a baby's rattle was presented to the winner.

Kotarian Vick thanked the club in a very feeling manner and told them he would keep the prize as one of his most treasured possessions. Those present were Sam Parker, Marvin Wallace, Tom Lawrence, Oak McKenzie, M. L. Parker, W. H. Oliver, Travis B. Bryan, Robert Howell, R. O. Allen, Sankey Park, Ad McQueen, J. C. Nagle, Wilson Bradley, Ernest Moore, W. R. Fairman, E. J. Fountain, Roy Stone, John M. Lawrence, John Vick and Tyler Haswell. The luncheon was served by Mrs. W. D. Lawrence and Mrs. M. G. Nall at the Episcopal Parish House. The menu comprised the following: Fried chicken, cream potatoes, fried egg plant, hot rolls, tomatoes and lettuce with French dressing, ice tea and peach cobbler with cream.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

A few days ago a man saw spread out under the glass on a Brazos county desk the following: "There are two good rules which ought to be written in every heart. 1. Never believe anything bad about any body, unless you know positively it to true. 2. Never tell even that which is absolutely necessary, and that God is listening while you tell it." How many of us repeat that which we know to be false, thus discrediting our neighbor among his fellow man, and at the same time in no way benefiting our own lives?

"Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life." What a changed world we would have if this rule were carefully observed. How much better would be the community in which you and I live if we would only let this principle actuate us in all we do and say.

Floy Saxon, shorthorn club member at Reliance reports that his baby calf gained 20 pounds first week.

Tillman Jones, shorthorn club member at Reliance is trying to make his calf weigh 100 pounds when it is a month old.

Leaving the Tabor high school at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, almost forty club members, boys and girls, men and women, visited the following farms, primarily for the purpose of inspecting the club projects undertaken by club members at each place: Walter Tolden, M. P. Elliott, John Smith, Jay Harris, Geo. P. Edge, G. W. Bozeman, J. L. Cobb, F. W. Locke, Bob Batten, W. N. Wilson, Walter Armstrong, and M. S. Broach. Notwithstanding the short notice which had been made of the trip Miss Mary Locke, the efficient club leader of the Tabor club, had provided cars and induced a number of farmers and farm women to accompany the club members on the trip, among the number being John Smith, Victor Harris, J. L. Cobb, Jay Harris, Mrs. M. P. Elliott, Miss Susie and Maggie Benbow, and Mary Locke. Among the visitors were T. B. Truitt, of Waxahachie, A. L. Ward of College, District Agent A. W. Buchanan, and County Agent Beason of Bryan.

The trip was the second of its kind which has been conducted in this county, the other being in Steep Hollow community on last Thursday, and as was the case with Steep Hollow, the Tabor field day was a great one from point of interest and information gained. The Tabor people having some 1500 or 2000 acres planted to Truitt cotton were glad to have Mr. Truitt visit the community and make inspection of the cotton, which, while not good, rather surprised most of the party to see cotton that would anything like approach a third of a bale this year. All varieties on sandy land seemed to be very poor. Mr. Truitt gave some helpful suggestions as to preparation of exhibits for community and state fairs.

Mr. Ward, swine specialist extension service, always makes his best talk, so they say, when he is in the presence of good hogs. This, perhaps, accounts for his inspiring talks throughout the afternoon, as Tabor is producing some splendid hogs. Seven of the twelve farms visited had purebred and registered hogs. One rather singular incident was brought to the attention of the inspection party. On one farm there were two registered Poland China gilts, full sisters, one belonging to a club member, the other to his father. The club member's pig was twice as large as the one owned by his father, but since the father was absent and could not render an excuse, we shall not, at this time, divulge the name.

Mr. Ward gave many helpful suggestions concerning the care and treatment of hogs. He pointed out a common error, and one the county agent has given warning about time and again, and that is hogs for breeding purposes should not be kept up in close pens. It was pointed out that some club members had, possibly, ruined their gilts for breeding purposes by keeping in close pen and making them too fat. Pasture would have enabled the hog to make better development and at less cost. Some who heard Mr. Ward learned, evidently, that while they had registered hogs they did not have type hogs, or hogs that would score high in the show ring, a thing which must be considered when raising hogs to sell for breeding purposes.

District Agent Buchanan seemed happy all the afternoon over the fact that so many had turned out showed so much interest in the work. County Agent Beason is never happier than when he sees boys and girls taking an interest in those things which make for better men and better women and a better agriculture. Even amidst the present discouragements he believes there is a better day for the farm, an awakening when the farmer and his wife may in contentment sit around the farm fireside and be happy in the thought that they can bequeath to their children a land enriched by their tillage.

County Agent Beason is in receipt of a letter from the Federal Land Bank at Houston, calling attention to the co-operative agreement between the bank and the department of agriculture, Washington, and the extension service, whereby proper terracing and drainage may be done on lands upon which loans have been made and quoted the following paragraph in the deed of trust executed by the borrower to secure the loan:

"During the term of this loan the herein described shall be at all times fully protected from deterioration by washing or lack of drainage, by the construction and maintenance of reasonable, proper and adequate terracing and drainage, and, if at any time during the period of this loan, such terracing and drainage is not constructed and maintained as will fully protect said land the sole judge, the bank may, at its option, declare the entire indebtedness secured hereby immediately due and payable."

County Agent Beason will make report of all such lands in Brazos county needing terracing or drainage, and at the same time offer his assistance to farmers whose land needs attention.

While on field day at Tabor Tuesday, Messrs. Ward and Truitt complimented the good work the county agent is trying to put over in Brazos county. Thank you, gentlemen. Come again. A few roses among bristling thorns make the journey "sweeter and sweeter" as the days go by.
